It is rumored on the streets that Lieut. Sedgwick, an employee in the Custom House, has absconded, taking with him $1,500 belonging to an organization of which he was an officer, and defrauding a large number of his fellow clerks out of money which he had borrowed. Several of the Custom House clerks are said to have loaned him their months wages. He is supposed to have left on the Montezuma for Panama.

Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock, as a party of laborers were descending into the quicksilver mine at New Almaden, the advance in descending the ladder inhaled a lot of carbonic acid gas, and immediately fell from the ladder to the bottom of the shaft, a depth of 200 feet. Death immediately ensued. They were young men, both having families. Their names were George Varice and Wm Ralph.

Murder and Suicide.

The following are the particulars of the terrible affair which occurred at Hayward's, Alameda county, on Sunday night. A German named Peter Schmidt, residing on a ranch something near a mile and a half from Hayward's, on the Warm Springs road, with his sister Hannah Schmidt, has been opposed to her marriage with a farmer named John Ludling, residing in Alameda; but no one anticipated any serious trouble growing out of his antipathy to the alliance. On Monday morning the remains of the brother and sister were found in their house, and it appeared from their position and other circumstances that the must have shot her with a revolver and then finished the work by blowing his own brains out with the same weapon. The most intense excitement was created in the neighborhood by the discovery of the bodies. It appears that this murder and suicide was not the result of a sudden infatuation, but was planned the day before. In the pocket of the murderer was found a letter to a neighbor to the following purport:

MOUNT DEN, June 29, 1867.—Dear Mr. Eichler—You will please excuse me for the rash act I am about to commit, for my troubles in home are too great for me to bear any longer. I have tried time and time again to smother the matter. Instead of its getting any better it is getting worse. This is all I have to say concerning myself. You will please give my respects to all my friends, if I have got any at all. Now good bye.

PETER JOBSON SCHMIDT.

The fight of the line will start from Stockton and Filbert streets at 10 o'clock prompt), and proceed down Stockton to Washington, to Montgomery, to Market, to Fifth, to Howard, countermarching on Second to Sansome, to Washington, to Montgomery, to the Metropolitan Theatre. Hon George Barstow will deliver an oration. Marcus D. Boruck will read the Declaration of Independence. Henry Herbert and the Twelves will sing the Star Spangled Banner and an anthem composed by F. B. Austin expressly for the occasion will be sung by the twelve. The Theatre will be opened by 11 o'clock A. M. for ladies and their escorts. The fire-works will positively go off at the junction of Market and McAllister streets. Many people were disappointed in not seeing them last year from the fact that they went up Market street and took a position in the rear of the fire-works. The colored people have not yet signified their desire to march in the procession, but if they so wish, a place will be assigned them by the Chief Marshal.

They attacked McCulley's ranch a mile and a half east of Riverside yesterday and wounded one man. They run the Junction operator, who was out on the line, and pursued him three miles this morning. Good horse flesh saved him. He reports the country full of Indians. He is a good Indian man and going ahead.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 4, 1867.

No Paper To-morrow.

Editors, printers, sabs and cubs of the OREGONIAN, together with their each and several families, are going to celebrate to day, in consequence of which there will be no issue of this paper to-morrow

Independence Day.

This is the ninety first anniversary of the day made immortal by the declaration of American Independence—the day when the idea of republican liberty began practically to take the place of that dogma of despots that kings are born to rule, the people to obey. For ninety-one years that idea—of man's right and capacity to govern himself—has not only been maintained, but has been propagated in various degrees, among all the chief nations of the earth. For most of them, though it has not yet brought forth its full fruits, it has better defined the limits of kingly prerogatives and the extent of natural rights belonging to subjects—restricting the one and enlarging the other. The era which began with this day ninety-one years ago—the era of liberalism tempered with reason—will not close, as we confidently believe, till all rulers and people, shall fully understand their relative rights and duties and find their greatest happiness in granting what the one may demand and in performing what the other may exact, under the code of right, justice and humanity. Looking thus upon the results to flow from the act of our fathers of '76, the American people can never forget to honor the recurrence of the anniversary. To-day will be celebrated, not only in every city, town and hamlet of the United States, but by Americans in every civilized portion of the world. The flag which we have followed through the stormy days of war and the halcyon periods of peace, will be flung to the breezes in a thousand foreign cities and ports. To-day the sun will not set upon the people who own it, love it and have sworn to uphold it with their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor.

It is in some sort the duty of every American citizen, as often as the day recurs, to lay aside his avocation, divest himself of his heated partisan prejudices, and unite with his neighbors in the observance of such ceremonies as will keep fresh in his mind the value to him of a free, liberal government, and renew within him an imperishable resolve that, that government shall be perpetuated forever. The true American has little respect for that man who does not to-day feel prouder that he is an American, than on ordinary days of the year; who does not rejoice with a greater joy in his privileges; who does not greet the glorious old flag with a gladder hurrah; who does not swear in his soul a higher oath of fealty to his country; who does not pour out from his heart a fuller gratitude to that Power who, ruling the destinies of nations, has thus far turned the machinations of our country's enemies unto their own shame, and has led us by victory upon victory, to be not only one of the greatest, but truly the freest nation of the earth.

We ought to celebrate to-day because of the great growth of our country; because of [illegible] of our government toward the realization of the best theories of political science; because [illegible] requirements in the use[illegible] and religion find here a [illegible] because our national integrity of [illegible] be respect of the world; because we have established the right of all men to the enjoyment of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness and because we have founded a republican form of government, all men may take shelter from oppression and secure for themselves and their posterity, those blessings of freedom, [illegible] equality and justice, which are not [illegible] the subjects of any other government upon the earth

The United States at Paris.

[illegible] to be a very noticeable feature of the American department of the Paris Exposition that it is occupied almost exclusively by useful rather than [illegible] articles belonging to the fine arts. The United States is represented by over five hundred exhibitors, more than half of whom have drawn prizes; yet not more than two or three of them were for articles strictly within the catalogues of the ornamental arts. The people of the United States are too liberally gifted with muscle to dawdle much with easel, brush or chisel. While Europe dreams America wakes. We have too much [illegible] of new roads to wealth; too many steam railroads to build; too many forests to [illegible] too many fields, too many machines to invent and make for the cheapening of the necessaries of life, to hope or wish to enter into competition with the old world in such exhibitions as [illegible] to please the eye of the artificer or satisfy the [illegible] dreamer. The people of the lands where they carve and painting draw their fullest [illegible] and where metaphysics more than half [illegible] hope of reason, may sneer at the American portion of the Exposition, but the American feels proud of it. The machines it contains, the practical inventions, the helps to live, are all flattering compliments to his practical genius. The very paucity of articles contributes in a certain way to his satisfaction, by proving that he is too busy with grappling with active, lusty life to attend to showing his neighbors what he has achieved. The American at Paris may look through the European portions of the world's show case and think them pretty; but when he comes to the American "corner," he thinks of what it is worth; how much the honest elements of the earth have been made to [illegible] to human living. The results [illegible] are not such as to disappoint or disparage the representative American.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—The Supreme Court of the United States recently decided that a note given for slaves purchased before the war is of no value, and cannot be enforced against the maker.

The Supreme Court of the State of Louisiana has since rendered a similar judgment, which it is said, involves over a million of dollars in that State alone.

We learn by the Olympia Standard that Alice, a daughter of Mr. S. Garfielde, died suddenly, at Olympia, on the morning of June 28th. She was about five years old.

A MAN-WOLF.—Rev. Dr. Butler, the well-known Methodist missionary who established the mission of that church in India in 1836, recently returned to this country. He makes the following statement of a remarkable case:

In 1850 a British soldier, while bearing a dispatch from one magistrate to another in the kingdom of Oude, passed an unfrequented ravine, where he saw a pack of wolves, and with them a human being, evidently one of their company. Immediately turning back, he reported the circumstance to the magistrate for whom he was traveling. The latter forthwith mustered a number of Coolies and went to the place. The pack of wolves fled a short distance and sought refuge in a sort of cave or den. Beginning to dig, the party soon discovered the feet of the wild man, and, drawing him forth, succeeded in binding and carrying him to the town. Dr. Butler has seen him often since, and says he is evidently a man, and at the time of his capture apparently about 24 years of age.

The captured creature at first violently resisted the attempt to put clothing upon him, but after a while ceased to tear the garment. He is now kept by a gentlem in the city of Thabje Vampore, some eight hundred miles west of Calcutta. When he was first taken, he was unwilling to eat anything but fresh raw meat, and has never been able to speak or make any approximation to a knowledge of the alphabet. If any one looks earnestly or sharply at him, he expresses his annoyance by a self-uttered grunt, immediately turning away and settling upon his haunches in a corner of the room, or lies down. He eats his food off the ground, and, although evidently a human being, is in habits a wolf, with the instincts of that beast

This is certainly an anomalous fact in natural history, although it is said that four similar cases are known to have occurred in India, presenting the same general facts.

Wolves abound in India, where the inhabitants live wholly in the villages and cities; and at the approach of night all persons employed in the open country retire to these clusters of houses or huts, and these roving and ferocious animals find free range It frequently happens that a wolf steals into a house and carries off a child So frequently is this the case, that in the schedules furnished for recording the mortality in each place, one column is headed, "Carried off by wolves."

Dr. Butler's theory of this strange case is that a she-wolf probably carried off this person when he was an infant, and that before she devoured her prey the child instinctively searched for food Beginning to draw its nourishment, it awoke in the wolf maternal instinct which led to the preservation of its life, and thus the boy grew and lived.

The colors of each neither fade nor run. Sold by Smith & Davis.

FURTHER OF THE FIRE.—We have been enabled by thorough and persistent inquiry to lay before our readers further of the particulars relating to the destruction of the Oregon Iron Foundry yesterday morning. The following are the owners of stock in the company as near as we can ascertain them: Stephen Coffin, (whose interest covered two-thirds of the entire establishment) D McCully, A. McCully, R. M. Cooke, S. T. Church, W. S. Powell, J. W. Clawson, Dr. W. H. Watkins, Wm. Lair Hill, J. C. Jamison, A. Myers and Wm. Masters. The loss is estimated by the President, without any definite and determinate knowledge below the figures we mentioned yesterday morning—$30,000. There was an insurance on the works to the extent of $10,000. Mr. McCully, the President, having loaned the company $10,000, required it to secure an insurance to that amount for his benefit, which was done. The fire originated in the extreme south-east corner of the casting building, which is located on the south-west corner of the block. On Tuesday, the men in that part of the works had been casting, and had run off the surplus metal from the cupola into a corner of the building, upon which surplus metal the laborers had placed the flasks (being the casings of the sand of which the moulds are made), and being decidedly combustible, the heat retained by the metal caused their ignition, which led to the rapid development of the whole establishment by the ravenous element. At the west side of the building, one header completed and one nearly finished were burned, the smell lasts but a beautiful piece of machinery was carried from the building without the doors, and papers belonging to the business of the concern were all saved. The loss of each individual stockholder is not to be known until further developments and through investigation of all the losses. The heaviest loser is Stephen Coffin, placed at about $40,000. Mr. Davis, the patentee of the reaper being manufactured by the Works for him, is about $6,000. There were twenty of the reapers quite if not entirely completed. Governor Gibbs, a short time since sold out his entire interest, thereby saving himself from loss. Stephen Coffin also, since, we understand, sold an interest to Mr. Masters, and was negotiating for a transfer of a still further interest, but the negotiation was not complete. One important piece of machinery, called a slotting machine (which in English is a machine for notching iron) passed the fiery ordeal without receiving any damage. We learn, after further inquiry, that Wm. Lair Hill, Esq., is a loser by about $1,200. The firemen did their duty as became them, and worked with a will to save all the property they possibly could. Although there was no wind, still the houses on the north, across the street, would have been consumed had not the firemen stayed its scorching effects upon the roof of the residence near by. Had there been a breeze, over, from the northwest, the Central Public School House, a fine building, would have been in danger; but with Portland firemen at the apparatus, and with half a show, they would have saved it harmless from fire and baptised it with water in less time than it takes us to write.

A NEW REPORTER.—In a specimen of the manner in which a new reporter for the press is forced to make an [illegible] when this commodity is scarce—we reproduce the following from the Philadelphia Ledger. After reading the article below, and spending some thought on the subject, if there is one newspaper reader in Portland who will not sympathize with us—why, we will come to the conclusion that the milk of human kindness has all left the breast of that irreclaimable biped, and will turn over to fame as productive of evil to a greater extent than even he could wish, the person, who is so void of a realization of what should constitute a living principle in every soul, to give a generous indulgence to all connected with the editorial department, pandering to an endless desire for the incidents and accidents which transpire in the city. Not to the selection spoken of "away back yonder," at New Hampshire.—We took a new reporter on trial yesterday. He went out to hunt items and after being away all day, returned with the following, which he said was the best that he could do: 'Yesterday we saw a sight which froze our muscles with horror. A buckaway driving down Vine street at a rapid pace, came very near running over a house and two children. There would have been a most heart-rending catastrophe, had not the nurse with wonderful forethought, left the children at home before she went out and providentially stepped into a drug store before the hack passed. Then too the buckaway, just before reaching the crossing, thought of something that he had forgot, and turning about, drove in the opposite direction. Had it not been for this wonderful coincidence of favoring circumstances, a doting father, a loving mother, and affectionate brothers and sisters, would have been plunged into the deepest woe and most unutterable funeral expenses.' The new reporter is retained.—Philadelphia Ledger.

REMOVAL OF FARE.—A move in the right direction has been made. Arrangements have been effected between the California, Oregon and Mexico Steamship Company, and the Oregon Steam Navigation Company and the Pioneer Stage Company, by which passengers can be ticketed directly through from San Francisco to Boise City, Idaho City and Silver City, in Idaho, at greatly reduced rates. The steamer of the former company will leave San Francisco on the 7th, 17th and 27th of each month; and will connect with the steamers of the O. S. N. Company at Portland, which steamers will also connect with the coaches of the Pioneer Stage Company at Umatilla, for Boise, Idaho and Silver cities. The following are the rates of fare as published, and also the prices heretofore charged:

Portland to Boise City—steerage,...	$95 00	$ 93 50
" " Idaho City—steerage...	72 50	103 50
" " Silver City—steerage...	72 50	108 50

$15 additional will be charged for cabin passage.

Under this arrangement passengers can leave San Francisco and make the journey to Idaho via Portland cheaply, and with celerity and comfort. This move will, we think, add materially to the column of travelers to the mining country by way of the Columbia route, the very scenery of which, saying nothing about the great reduction in fare, is sufficient of itself to induce those going to the upper country to take this, the cheapest and most [illegible] stable route. We look for great results from the action of the companies named above.

THE STEAM FIRE ENGINE.—No. 2's steam engine was employed, yesterday forenoon, under the direction of Foreman Bochtel, in extinguishing the fire in the ruins of the foundry. There being no water nearer than the junction of Third and Morrison, she was set at work there and even then had to take water, in a little hose, from the hydrant near First street. The distance was 1,125 feet, which would have required the force of nearly the whole department with hand engines, who threw a good stream of water, and in a few hours had the ruins so far cooled off as to admit of examining most of the machinery, not broken up. Every foot of No. 2's hose was laid and several of the company were out, lending assistance. The great power and value of the steamer is well illustrated in such instances as this, where she does the work of so many men. In all cases of continuous hard work she is an invaluable adjunct to the Fire Department.

MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE IRON WORKS.—A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Oregon Iron Works was held yesterday to consider matters growing out of the destruction of the works by fire. The Directors estimate its loss at about $80,000. It was insured for only $10,000. There is several thousand dollars worth of machinery and other property saved. A large amount of the machinery supposed to be entirely destroyed is but slightly injured. The company is amply able to meet all its liabilities. At the meeting of the Directors, it was not definitely settled whether to rebuild or not, though the feeling seemed to be in favor of doing so. There will be a meeting of stockholders to-day to determine the question, and if the determination is to rebuild, the work will commence without delay.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY JUDGE.—The following are the proceedings of yesterday:

John Curtis, a petit juror, was excused from further attendance.

The grand jury came in and presented an indictment against A. S. Dancer, S. B. Parrish, G. A. Ladd, and H. W. Rappley, for smuggling, endorsed "a true bill." Defendants arraigned and allowed until Tuesday, the 9th inst., to plead.

United States vs H W Hyman—action at law to recover penalty, trial by jury; verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $100.

Adjourned until Friday morning at 10 o'clock A. M.

WATERY CIRCUMSTANCES.—Capt. Dierdorff and C. H. Lewis, Esq., were conversing on the platform back of Allen & Lewis' store on Tuesday; the railing which they were leaning against, gave way, and both were precipitated into the water below. Luckily some plank were floating beneath, which sufficed to prevent any serious results and affording room for a laughable incident, which, after the circumstance, was undoubtedly enjoyed by the participants in the accident.

ANNOUNCEMENT.—By request we take infinite pleasure in announcing that there will be singing of a high order this evening by the celebrated "Contraltinobusnoopertenorisnusticsingerer" Club, belonging to the Phunny Phellows." Please make a note of this and be on hand at the Base Ball Club grounds where the "Wie cosigable to yield up the moments to patriotic pleasures and the exercises of the ancient order.

RECORDER'S COURT.—The decision of the Court in the case of Mrs. E. M. Bath was not, as expected, rendered yesterday morning, but probably will be to-morrow. Albert Johnson was sent to jail for twelve days for larceny. On the charge of stealing a black hat, he was discharged. John Hudson, for an assault on John Prater, was fined $10,00 and cost and went his way.

NEW IDEA.—Yesterday, the Cascade brought down 112 dry hides, which hail from Canyon City. A few days since, the same steamer brought down 1,165 dry hides, which had been freighted by teams to Umatilla, and are now on the wharf ready for shipment to San Francisco. The Cascade also brought down 20 tons of Walla Walla flour.

NO AWARD.—We published yesterday morning the bids put in by various persons for the contract for furnishing horses to the military of this district. We made inquiry at the office of Col. Babbitt yesterday and learned that no award of the contract had been made. As soon as made we will announce it.

THE PIXLEYS.—The Pixleys, last evening gave one of their unequaled performances to a large crowd of anxious and appreciative persons. They will to-night give a concert at the Hall of the American Exchange, where as a matter of course, a crowded house may be expected.

DROWNED.—We have hereasy evidence sufficient for stating for a fact, that two men were drowned yesterday on the Columbia. We traced the rumor to Mr Edgar, former express messenger, but could not find him, so we are unable to lay the particulars before our readers.

FREIGHT.—The Senator yesterday, brought down the following freight: 42 cases bacon, 4 sacks do., 41 sacks wool, 4 boxes of produce, 1,641 sacks flour, 7 pkgs wagon rims, 32 hides, 3 bells hides, 3 bells paper, 0 bf barrels produce, 25 shs feed, 3 tubs butter.

TEA OPTION.—The steamer started down the river yesterday on its promised excursion, and took several excursionists and considerable freight.

PROCLAMATION.—The following "Proclamation" has been issued by the Governor (President) of the "Honorific" calling upon them to celebrate, and stating his reasons therefor. As they are weighty and the time is propitious, we print it:

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, GREETING: That I, Perfect Brick Punkinwood Rex, Governor elect and ex-officio President of the commonwealth of "Honeidashittinatathingumajig," do ordain and declare that Thursday of the present week, commonly called and known under the regnomion of the Fourth of July, is, by birth and hereditary right, one of the days of the calendar year, and must be considered; and

WHEREAS, It has come to our august ears that certain high and mighty functionaries on Soap Creek, about demanding reconstruction under the Fugitive Bill Act, and that various others of our subjects in divers and sundry portions of our realm are mightily and sorely discomforted and demoralized under the apprehension that "things ain't as they used to was," and that the "heated term" and dog-days" are approaching; and

WHEREAS, Multifarious and conglomerated un official and not fire-tried and failed-to-be progressicated events are occurring or are about to occur, that must, shall and will receive our immediate and swift attention; therefore,

I, P. B. P., Governor, &c., as above written, with, by and through the authority into me vested by virtue of office, by these presents do order that each and every sun of a gun, or revolver, or blunderbuss, residing in my dominions, and all loyalists, Orangie, Whiteboy and other officers foreign or to the manor born, of whatever degree, color, shape or size, be and appear before me, the aforesaid Governor, &c., in full Court dress, at our Palace on the Rue de Front Strasse, in our city of Portland on the day preceding the 5th of the present month, commonly called the Fourth of July, at 9 o'clock of said day, in the evening thereof, fully armed and equipped for the peaceful results of warfare, for the purpose of exhibiting to the world and the rest of mankind our martial strength in glorious war when about to wipe up the Sargosines, and not fail to come (unless they have other biz.) under pain of instant, condign, terrible and irrefragible excoriation.

Furthermore, Be it enacted (and it is) that all persons, of whatever degree, occupation, age, name or state, (except citizens and foreigners,) who fail to be there or thereabouts, on the day and time above written, shall, as a further inducement, be condemned to everlasting redemption.

Also, as a further addendum, I order that all business houses (1 or 2 hours after midday) shall be and they are hereby closed; all artisans, mechanics and laborers of every kind (except those who wish to do otherwise) must, and they hereby do, refrain from laborious occupations during the said above written day, and as long thereafter as they wish, and are able to keep the "meal barrel" running without occupation.

Further, it has been hinted about that certain ungodly persons have outraged our beneficent laws, enactments and ordinances, by having or conniving at having certain baleful commodities, such as stale eggs, wilted figure-heads, and various other decayed vegetable and perishable matter, on hand, therefore, I, myself, under my own sign manuel, do order and declare that any immoral and pestiferous cuss, who shall be caught and convicted of having in his possession any of the above named ramifications of evil, shall be shot, wounded, seriously killed, and hung by the shirt-collar until completely dead, dead, dead! and this shall be considered lawful over-ex-pulsh-ment.

And be it further enacted, That all Division Commanders and Captains of Hosts who shall fail to connect onto this "Proclamash," shall be fined exceedingly more or less, and fail to get into the "local items" of the daily papers published in our realm.

Given under our hand and Great Seal, this 4th day of the 7th month, of our reign the One.

PERFECT BRICK PUNKINWOOD,
Governor, &c

Attest: B. B. E. MERON, Secretary.

LATE EASTERN PUBLICATIONS.—Chas. Barrett, Esq., has laid us under obligations to him for late eastern publications, comprising Leslie's Illustrated paper, Godey's Magazine, New York Times, New York Herald, Harper's Weekly, all of which and others, he has a goodly supply—Front street.

PROMPT.—Messrs. Mulkey, Besser, Bruck and McCraken, were prompt in their attendance at the Council Chamber last evening, but a quorum not being present, no business was transacted.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—Last evening the Common Council met pursuant to adjournment, and there being no Council present the Council adjourned.

MEETING.—We are under the necessity of announcing that there is a telegraphic message in the telegraph office for Andrew Robertson.

ASAY SAILS.—This steamer sails on Tuesday, July 9th, at 7 o'clock P. M., for San Francisco.

FOURTH OF JULY.—To-day is the Fourth of July—a national holiday—a good day to buy clothing cheap, as Barman Bros. feel patriotic and generous, and hence you had better purchase while they are in the humor. Prices low as ever. Cassimere suits $12 50 to $75 00; A No. 1 black frock coats from $10 00 to $40; drap pants from $5 00 $11 00; shirts, $1 50; gum rubber sack ties, 50 cents.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. R. M. BuNell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Sight and Exchange for Coin or Currency on this Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

A SOLEMN INSTRUMENT.—We saw, yesterday, at J. L. Parrish & Co's something now in the way of an organ—a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphonse Rodolphe. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufactories. It is provided with sixteen stops, each of which exercises a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The bass stops are the Forte, Jeu Doux, (soft, sweet) Basson, Clarion, Bourdon, English Horn; the treble stops are Expression, Melodie, Scotch Bagpipe, Flute, Clarionette, Fife, Hautbois, Voix Celeste, Forte, and Knee or Full Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising. For instance: from the flute to Voix Celeste with Full Expression, the tone changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to the full grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—what the name imports. The Key-Board is movable and can be adjusted to any key, to any instrument, or to the voice of any singer. Other changes are no less surprising. The instruments are of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish; have taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175, to $500. Persons in want of an instrument should call and see them, for it is impossible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co., are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

FROM IDAHO.

From the World of June 24th we clip the following:

PIONEER CITY MINING REGION.

A correspondent says: Placer mining is going on for miles around here, and claims are paying well generally. On Orleans Bar some of the claims were cleaned up last week, and the average yield was very large. Harry Hayes, who owns the upper claim on the Bar, has not yet made a clean up. Next below him is the claim of Patsey White, who has made several clean ups, and each of them has turned out better than he expected. From Ben. Wilson's claim, next below White's, a great deal of money has been taken this season. Two men shoveled in over $500 one night lately. Below Wilson's are the claims of John Convey & Co., and Hinckley & Co. These last named claims are lying idle this year, but their owners have bought the Wheelock ditch, with which they intend to carry on their diggings next fall so as to have free water next summer. Below are the claims of Wilson & Giberson, which have yielded $2,000 from a five days' run. Other claims I could mention are paying equally well.

The Elkhorn Quartz Company made another very rich clean up last week, and their ledges are now proved to be as rich as any on the coast, I believe. And I further believe, if we had men to diligently prospect and capitalists to develop what the prospectors discover, this would be shown as one of the best quartz districts ever found.

One-third of the Summit Flat ledge has been sold to parties in Boise City, who are up there to examine and work it. I learn that an offer has been made for the Native American ledge on Big Muddy, about a mile from Silvers & Wright's ledge and four miles from this place. The parties who have made the offer propose to begin work on the ledge as soon as they get possession, if successful in getting it. Mr. Burkett has assayed some of the rock from the ledge, and it yielded from $500 to $600 per ton.

A bogus dust operator was caught here the other day, but managed to escape the same evening.

I have seen several letters from parties in Lemhi to friends here which came lately. They all unite in saying Lemhi is a big bilk.

MASONIC CELEBRATION.

The celebration of St. John the Baptist's day, by the Masonic Fraternity in this city, last Monday, the 24th instant, was a most appropriate, interesting and impressive affair. During the morning large delegations of the Brethren of the Mystic Tie came in from all about the Basin—from Centerville, Pioneer City, Placerville, and from points outside—by Pinkham's stages, on horseback and on foot, all animated by the high zeal, characteristic of the Fraternity, to join in doing honor to and in suitably commemorating the anniversary which so prominently marks the history of Masonry.

NEW DIGGINGS ON MIDDLE BOISE.

Mr. E. V. Ankeon writes from Middle Boise, June 24th: Myself and party having been prospecting for several weeks on the Middle Boise, about half way between Goodrich's ranch and the Yuba, have struck good paying ground, and there is paying claims enough in that vicinity for a thousand white men, besides any amount of Chinamen. If it was only Lemhi, the trail, which is a good one and has good bridges, free of toll, would now be lined with men and pack trains. The best prospects we found are about fifteen miles above Goodrich's ranch. The bars and hills are good, and the river is rich I know, and I have long known that paying diggings existed in that region, but was never thoroughly satisfied with it before, as I am now. A lively mining camp is bound to spring up somewhere on the Middle Boise between Goodrich's and the Yuba.

FROM MONTANA.

We clip the following from the Helena Post of the June 15th:

THE INDIAN WAR—NEWS FROM THE FRONT.

The Indian depredations on the mail route are becoming extremely annoying. Passengers by railroad are compelled to wait or return from Julesburg. Those at Denver are literally "bottled up," having egress neither east or west, and the mail yesterday gave unmistakable tokens of a "cut off" that will reduce it to nothing in a few days. The telegraph has been down for eleven days, and with the exception of a few dispatches smuggled through by passengers, the whole telegraphic business between the east and west has been stopped during that time. The accumulation of dispatches in Iron-mountain, Holliday and Mr. Tracy tried to get through to Denver, but a dispatch on Wednesday stated that the former had abandoned the trip and was returning to Salt Lake. The Vedette of last Saturday has the following: Many passengers from the west will probably come this route. It was reported about the city yesterday, that Wells, Fargo & Co. had withdrawn the stages on the road, east of here, out of the Indian troubles. Our friends, going east, will find it much pleasanter Baxe city via Three Buttes to Virginia, thence to Bedens, and then to Fort Benton, they can float down stream like a leaf, far easier and pleasanter than jogging along over the [illegible] in cumbersome lumber wagons [illegible] Beaver."

The Montana militia are ordered by General [illegible] to advance to Fort Smith as soon as [illegible] can be rewarded. The Herald [illegible] that the Sioux and Crows are now advancing rapidly toward the Gallatin. Colonel Sanders writes that the steamer Gallatin, on the 9th inst., started on an excursion to the falls of the Missouri. This point has never been reached by steamer, we believe. One of the boats attempted it last summer, but did not succeed.

FROM IDAHO.

The Idaho World of the 26th ult. has the following:

Adams, Goodrich & Co.'s Lemhi Express got in last evening, in six days from Leesburg. By it we have the Mining News of June 16th. It contains few local news items. From its leading articles it appears there is much trouble, and likely to be more, in consequence of the imperfect mining laws. It seems that the "eight or nine thousand claims recorded" are owned by "only about three hundred persons whose names are enrolled." A meeting was called at Leesburg, 15th, to better regulate mining claims.

Trains of goods and provisions, liquors, etc., daily pour in from all quarters.

D. W. Williams, traveling agent of Hosmer, Goowey & Co., San Francisco, had arrived in Leesburg.

A large quantity of grain was to be sold, the 18th, to pay transportation.

The expressman informs us he met parties on their way back from Lemhi.

A list of the nominations made by the President and rejected by the Senate during the special session of the Fortieth Congress has just been completed. It was printed for the confidential use of the Senate, but a copy has leaked out. The following are the numbers rejected for the positions named: Postmasters, 118; collectors and assessors of revenue, 67; surveyors of customs, 13; collectors of customs, 5; naval officers, 5; Indian agents, 2; public lands, 4; pension agents, 3; consuls, 2, consul-generals, 3, ministers to Austria, 2. There were 26 nominations made which were neither confirmed nor rejected, but were laid over. The most prominent of this number were Raymond for Austria, Capron for Agricultural Bureau, Sidney Howard Gay for Assessor in New York city, and C. S. Franklin for Naval Officer for New York. At the regular session of the Senate for the Fortieth Congress, the following were rejected: Postmasters, 109; collectors and assessors, 58; Austrian mission, 2; pension agents, 5. During the session of the Senate for the Thirty-Ninth Congress, the following were rejected: Postmasters, 96; collectors, 83; collectors of customs, 22; postmasters, 108.

SUICIDE OF AN OREGONIAN.—A dispatch to the Alta dated Tehama, June 24th, says:

David Vanderhook, a native of Indiana, 28 years old, latterly from Oregon, committed suicide yesterday morning, at Decker's ranch, near this place, by placing a rifle to his forehead and completely blowing the top of his head off. The deceased killed a man named Boyle, in this county, about three years ago, and was convicted of manslaughter and sent to the penitentiary for three years. He was pardoned by the Governor a short time ago. He was sick for some days previously, but was convalescent. It is thought the murder and sickness together had a depressing effect upon his mind, and caused him to put an end to his own existence.

The Chicago Tribune gives the following under the head of "Notices of Amusement," from the (prospective) Daily Muskrat:

The Hanlon Brothers opened their unique entertainment last evening to an audience composed of the elite of our population. Their performances on the Arctic Circle, and balancing on the extremity of the North Pole, were very graceful and beautiful. Showers of tallow candles were thrown upon the stage, and the daring athletes retired amid thunders of applause. We are requested to announce that their agent has made arrangements to illuminate the Ice Palace with the Aurora Borealis to-morrow evening.

Letter from Secretary McCulloch on the Financial Situation.

A Washington dispatch, dated May 29th, says that the Secretary of the Treasury has written a letter to certain Boston gentlemen, in the course of which he expresses himself as follows on the financial question:

You must not expect that our monthly statements for the rest of the present and early part of the next fiscal year will be as satisfactory as they have been for many months past. The donations or bounties to soldiers, preparations for threatening Indian wars, even if war itself should be avoided, and very liberal appropriations of a miscellaneous character, will cause unusual drafts upon the treasury, while on the other hand a general failure of the wheat crop and a partial failure of the corn crop last year, the slow progress in the restoration of the Southern States to their proper relations with the Federal Government, the dullness of trade throughout the country, partly the result of a decrease of production, and partly of a natural reaction which always follows a period of excitement and speculation, together with reduced taxes, will very considerably affect our revenues. This combination of adverse circumstances may retard the return of specie payments, and with the large issue of bonds to be made to the Pacific Railroad and its branches or divisions, will prevent for a brief season the reduction of the public debt, and may even render a temporary increase of it unavoidable, but it will not weaken my faith in our ability to move on again in the right direction at an early day; on the contrary, I believe that this check to our progress will lead to improvements in our revenue laws, and to increased efficiency in their execution and hasten the representation in Congress of the Southern States and secure a greater economy in all branches of public service.

Some surprise may exist that I have not for some months past reduced the circulation of United States notes, according to authority conferred upon me by Congress, and an inference may be drawn from it that my opinion upon the subject of contraction has undergone a change. Permit me to say, therefore, that I am as much persuaded as ever of the importance of an early return to specie payments, and of a reduction of the currency as a means of checking extravagance and speculation, and of increasing the production, without which all efforts to restore a permanently specie standard will be ineffectual. What the country needs, in order that specie payment may be resumed and maintained, and real prosperity secured, is an increase of industry and the restoration of our former habits of economy. As a people among ourselves, we must earn more and spend less. In our trade with foreign nations, we must sell more or buy less. Any different prescription for existing financial evils is in my judgment quackery. That contraction will tend to bring about this desirable condition of things I have never doubted, but I nevertheless suspended the reduction of the circulation of United States notes for the following reasons, either of which would have had more or less influence in determining it:

First—The views of a majority of the members of Congress, as indicated by the number of votes, last winter, were adverse to immediate contraction, and I have not felt at liberty to place myself in practical opposition to the law-making branch of the Government, without whose support I must be powerless.

Second—There have existed for some months past anxious forebodings of financial troubles, and while they continued I have been apprehensive that the contraction of the currency, the object and effect of it being misunderstood or misinterpreted, might produce panic in commercial cities, which, extending over the country and beyond speculative interests, would injuriously affect legitimate business. Revenue depends upon it.

Third—Large amounts of interest-bearing notes are to be paid or converted within the present and next fiscal year, to which it seemed prudent for me first to direct my attention, leaving the curtailment of circulating notes to be determined from month to month by the condition of the country and the treasury.

Fourth—Anticipating that failure of crops and other circumstances alluded to would seriously affect business, I have considered it important that the public mind should not be deterred by criticisms and complaints of those who are opposed to contraction from real causes of trouble, that sound policy should not be put up in peril by being made the scapegoat of evils resulting from different causes.

Finally, it must not be inferred from what I have written that I am not hopeful in regard to our financial future. It has been my constant aim so to manage the national finances as to aid in bringing the country to a healthy financial condition without being subjected to the severe disasters which many judicious persons had supposed the large debt and derangement of business and diminution of industry, occasioned by the war and a redundant currency, would render inevitable.

My faith that this can be accomplished is unshaken. The causes which are now operating against us are exceptional and temporary. The prospect for a good crop of winter wheat was never better. More spring wheat has been sown, and more corn has been or will be planted this season than ever before. The people are beginning to comprehend again this important truth, which seems to have been disregarded for some years past, that prosperity is the result of labor; that industry and economy are as indispensable to national as to individual wealth. I shall be grievously disappointed if another year does not witness a large increase of industry, enterprise and revenue—a decided progress toward the resumption of specie payment and a steady reduction of the public debt.

The Lady of the Capitol.

Mrs. Ames, in her last Washington letter to the Independent, describes some of the female lobbyists and their ways. The following sketch is thrillingly interesting:

"Leaning back in a deep chair, no one near her, you see a fair woman, whose beautiful presence seems at variance with the many anxious and angular and the few coarse women around her. The calmness of assured position, the serene satisfaction of conscious beauty, envelope her and float from her like an atmosphere. We feel it even here. Pale plumes droop above her lovely forehead, velvet draperies fall above her graceful form. We catch a glimpse of alluring laces, the gleam of jewels glittering on dimpled, ungloved hands. Look long into this face; its splendor of tint and perfection of outline can bear the closest scrutiny. Look long, and then say if a soul saintly as well as serene looks out from under those penciled arches, through the dilating irises of those beguiling eyes. Look! and the unveiled gaze which meets yours will tell you, as plainly as gaze can tell, that adulation is the life of its life, and seduction the secret of its spell; it is the beauty of one who tunes her tongue to honeyed accents, and lifts up her eyelids to load men astray. She comes and goes in a showy carriage. She glides through the corridors, haunts the galleries and the ante-rooms of the capitol—everywhere conspicuous in her beauty. All who behold her, inquire: "Who is that beautiful woman?" Nobody seems quite sure. Doubt and mystery envelope her like a cloud. "She is a rich and beautiful widow;" "She is unmarried;" "She is visiting the city with her husband." Every gazer has a different answer.

"There a few deep in the secrets of diplomacy, of legislative venality, of government prostitution, who can tell you that she is one of the most subtle and most dangerous of the lobbyists. She is but one of a class always beautiful and always successful. She plays for large stakes, but she always wins. The man who says to her, secure my appointment, make sure my promotion, and I will pay you so many thousands. Does she wait like a suppliant? Not at all. She sits like an empress waiting to give audience. Will she receive her subjects in promiscuous assemblage? No. If you wait long enough you will see her glide over these tessellated floors; not alone. Far from the crowd, in some ante-room, sumptuous enough for the Sybarites, this woman, as beautiful as nature and art can make her, will dazzle the sight of a half demented and wholly bewildered magnate, and then tell him what she wants. With alluring eyes and beguiling voice, she will besiege his will through the outwork of the senses, and so charm him on to do her pleasure. He promises her his influence, he promises her his power, her favorite shall have the boon he demands. Thus some of the highest prizes in the government are won. Unscrupulous men pay wily women to touch the subtlest and surest springs to influence, and thus open a secret way to their public success. No longer the question is, shall women participate in politics; shall they form a controlling element in the government? But, as there are women who will and do exert this power, shall it remain covert, equivocal, demoralizing, base? or shall it be brave and pure, and open as the sun?"

The following is an epitaph on Mr. John Childs, former President of the Typographical Society:

"His last form is locked up in eternity's chase,
His composition's corrected above:
His proof was not foul, nor imperfect his case,
Say the angels of Omniscient Love."

The statements of the Marysville and Stockton Land Offices for this season show as much activity in the purchase of Government lands as the best districts in the Western States; and what is better, most of the lands sold have gone into the hands of actual settlers.—Sacramento Bee, 20th.

CHOLERA.

MR. PERRY DAVIS:—The benefits I have received from the use of your invaluable remedy, the Pain Killer, induces me to pen a word in its praise. Experience has convinced me that for Headache, Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, or any other part of the system, severe Chills, Weariness, common Colds, Hoarseness, CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Toothache, etc., THERE IS NOTHING BETTER THAN THE PAIN KILLER. I have this hour recovered from a severe attack of the Sick Headache, by using two teaspoonful, taken at thirty minutes intervals, in wine glass full of hot water. I am confident, through the blessing of God, it saved me from the cholera in the summer of 1843. Travelling amid heat, dust, toil, change of diet, and constant exposure to an infected atmosphere, my system was daily predisposed to dysentery attacks, accompanied with pain, for which the Pain Killer was a sovereign remedy, one teaspoonful curing the worse case in an hour, or at the most, half a day. I have had set many cases of Dysentery being cured by its use. Put in the truth, it will stop the toothache. Gratitude, and a desire for its general use, has drawn from me this unsolicited testimonial in its favor.

GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARrive when a new direction is imparted to its course. These epochs proceed from discovery of new facts shedding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science. The present is an epoch of this kind, and this Great Remedy, now offered to the public, in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of
